Mission Statement

We, the community of St. James, are a prayerful and Eucharistic people who treasure our Catholic traditions. We strive to grow in our faith by being good stewards of the gifts God has given us; sharing God's truth with all. As the Body of Christ, we are called to love and serve everyone, especially the marginalized, with joy and hospitality.

LEDs

Do You Know?

Brightergy began the St. James conversions to LEDs on Monday, August 3.

They started in the school classrooms, will work to the halls, and then to the Social Hall. Finally they will do the gym and Church, as the work in those areas will require the use of a lift device.

My friends, I have seen the first few classrooms and the improvement is very special, far beyond what I expected. We will complete the work prior to the start of school.

Jim Newell, Operations Manager

From Death to New Life

Our prayer support is with ...

Jim Norton and son Joe in the death of Jim's wife and Joe's mother, Vicky, who passed away on August 2.

Fred Collison and family in the death of Fred's wife Jeannie Collison who passed away on August 2.

Linda Weber and family in the death of her husband Leo Weber who passed away on July 30.

Bonnie Ohmes and family in the death of her grandson Arthur Ohmes who passed away last week.

May the healing hand of our Lord Jesus be felt by all who are coping with grief and missing loved ones.

From the Pastor's Pen

As we move into mid-August, it's hard to believe the summer is behind us and it's time to gear up for school to start! A special prayer goes out to all young people beginning new adventures this Fall – entering new levels of education at this time: grade school, high school, going off to college for the first time. There are lots of transitions and new adventures for families. Through it all remember, God's presence is always there!

We are excited about our upcoming school year here at St. James with our new principal, Jennifer Scanlon-Smith, and new faculty and staff. Just a reminder and invitation to all our parish families to consider St. James School as an option for quality Catholic education for your children/families. We have openings, and our school would love to give your families a tour – just give them a call!

To all involved in education, know that we are grateful for your dedication and sacrifice for our young people, and know of our prayers as you begin the school year.

Please mark your calendars for next Sunday's celebration in honor of the Precious Blood community on their 200th Anniversary. Fr. Timothy reminds us that all are invited to a special Mass here at St. James on Sunday, August 16 at 4pm, followed by a reception at Precious Blood Center. We are very grateful for the Precious Blood community, and for their ministry here at St. James and in our diocese! Come and join us.

Our Capital Campaign is gaining momentum as we plan for our kickoff in September. There is lots of energy & excitement. If you haven't had the opportunity to become a part of this great spirit, you are always welcome! Our teams could always use more folks, and all are invited to 'come on board'!

To all who have been so faithful to attending Mass and giving to our parish over the summer, we are indeed grateful! To those if who have maybe not been so faithful, we invite you to begin again, teaching ourselves and our families how important it is to attend Mass weekly, and to give of our time, talent and treasure back to God for all that God has done for us! We have many exciting plans for the future of our community here at St. James, and if we all do our part, then we can continue to build the community that will support our families in the future!

May you and your families know God's goodness and Love.

Peace, Fr. Mike

Someone is Watching and Wondering

METANOIA

Conversion is grace, pure gift from God. The Greek word metanoia "to turn and see again" describes both

"conversion" and "repentance". It conveys the idea of understanding old ideas with a fresh mind, clearer eyes, and an open heart. The catechumenate is a process of metanoia, receiving God's grace, that requires preparatory steps and support of a faith community open to its own on-going conversion.

The first step: a willingness to live with ambiguity; moving from "life is a problem to be solved" to "life is a mystery that unfolds." Second: life grounded in attentive prayer, listening to the small voice within. Not a meaninglessly recitation of prayers, but a commitment to daily prayer that invites holiness into our day; experiencing the wonder of life. Third: a commitment to community. It is trendy to speak of being "spiritual but not religious." Such spirituality is an illusion. Community tests our spiritual growth and conviction to follow Christ. Without community we live un-confronted lives. We cannot profess to be Catholic pretending God is far away in some spiritual realm. He is present among us. How we treat one another is truly how we love and serve God. Fourth: naming sin and repenting. A healthy realization of sin and how to repent from life patterns that bring pain to our human family is essential for conversion. Do I recognize my fault; am I willing to change; can I stop blaming others? Fifth: seeking silence. Our culture is full of business. We need an inner place of simply being, remembering we are created in God's image. Silence and resting in God leads to the path of holiness. Six: service. More than just another task added to our hectic lives, service is a mental attitude: Do I consciously put the needs of others before my own, try to understand their behavior, showing compassion and empathy? Seven: letting go of false idols. Where do I seek security: in social standing, reputation, ideas, wealth, self-image? Eighth: community symbols and rituals. Do I experience deeper communion with God through the rites of the church? Am I aware of God's presence and call? Ninth: faithfulness and obedience. Obedience is not blind acquiescence to higher authority, but rather living with a deep humility, embracing our humanity. Faithfulness is consenting to remain in situations that are demanding or difficult. Although we must evaluate when circumstances become too overwhelming, most of us recognize that we grow spiritually, when we make it through the tough times. Tenth: discipleship and friendship with Christ. Understanding the Gospel with new insight reveals what Jesus is asking; being challenged by the vision Jesus gives.

Conversion is a grand invitation to the ups and downs of life. We do not have to literally die to experience heaven on earth. However, we must respond to God's ongoing call to fall more deeply and passionately in love with Christ. This is the journey we share with our catechumens. There are two cornerstones to our Catholicism. The first is a way of life based on the incarnation, and Jesus' teaching that the meaning of life is found through love of God and neighbor. The second is a constant vision of life and the created universe which emphasizes God's love present in the world and which finds God's glory in countless everyday, ordinary events of life. God relates to us in a loving, caring, personal way. His love is unconditional, passionate, and absolutely reliable. Our call to conversion is a call to live this love.

Your Sister in Christ, Sandy Gagnon

Our Faith In Action

7/2/15 Blood Drive Results

On behalf of the Community Blood Center and hospital patients who depend on your generosity for blood donations, THANK YOU for participating in our recent blood drive.

The CBC welcomed 73 donors and collected 76 units of life-saving blood. These units will be distributed among local hospitals and will help treat burn victims, cancer patients, organ recipients, and many more. Blood is not a commodity you can find on a store shelf somewhere. It can only be manufactured and donated by another human being. That's why your participation in blood drives, such as the ones at St. James, are so vital in helping hospitals treat patients and give them a chance to heal. Thank you for your selfless act of choosing to help Save a Life. Right here. Right now.

Your next opportunity to donate blood at St. James will be on Tuesday, September 29. You can register at www.savealifenow.org using sponsor code 'stjames' or contact Nikki Power at kpower@kc.rr.com or 816-407-1208 with any questions or to make an appointment.

Catechists Needed How Are You Using Your Gifts?

We are putting the rosters together for next year's catechist team. We are glad to welcome back most of our catechists from last year, but there are several open spots....maybe one of them has your name on it.

This is one of the most rewarding ministries that our parish has to offer, listening to what our catechists have to say. We try to be respectful of the time we are asking you to commit, and we work towards putting teams together so that schedules can be flexible. The "work" is fun, the children are awesome, and the team is filled with really great people.

Hope for Back to School We've got you covered!

Don't tell the kids, but it's just about that time again. Time for new sneakers and backpacks, time for pencils and notebooks and those red pens that they never actually seem to use. While you are perusing the back-to-school ads keep St James in mind. You can pick up HOPE cards for Kohl's, JC Penney, Target, Walmart, Best Buy, Walgreens pretty much anywhere you plan to shop for Back-To-School items, we have a gift card for it. Your purchases can give back to the church at the same time! Pick up HOPE cards at the table after all the weekend Masses or in the parish office during the week.
